

Installation of jpt.jar

If you are using the Metrowerks integrated development environment on a Windows machine, then the Java library jpt.jar should be placed in the folder

....\Metrowerks\Codewarrior\Java_Support\Libraries

where represents where you have placed the Metrowerks environment on your machine (often C:\Program Files).

If you are using Metrowerks on a Macintosh or Unix system, then put jpt.jar in the corresponding Metrowerks directory on that system.

If you are using another development environment, then put jpt.jar in the CLASSPATH or in whatever location that environment uses to find its Java libraries.

The Java Power Tools library jpt.jar has been tested in a number of Java development environments (including BlueJ) and has worked in all environments attempted.

Since no code in JPT requires Java 1.4, the jpt.jar library was compiled using Java 1.3. It was tested using both the Java 1.3 and Java 1.4 virtual machines with no problems encountered.
